Program Overview

S.T.A.B.L.E. is a nationally recognized program involving care of the neonate beyond resuscitation. S.T.A.B.L.E. stands for the six assessment and care modules in the program: Sugar, Temperature, Airway, Blood pressure, Lab work and Emotional.

Target Audience

This program is designed for nurses, respiratory providers and others interested in newborn stabilization care.

As part of our commitment to diversity and inclusion, the Northwest AHEC provides compassionate education and respectful care for all, regardless of socioeconomic status, race, ethnicity, language, nationality, sex, gender identity, sexual orientation, religion, geography, disability and age.

Objectives

Upon completion of this knowledge-based program, participants should be able to:

- Describe appropriate interventions for neonatal emergencies.
- Discuss the initiation of IV fluid therapy in sick newborns.
- Identify infants at risk for hypothermia, the detrimental effects of cold stress and methods of rewarming.
- List the signs of respiratory distress and the indications for positive pressure ventilation with bag/mask or ETT.
- Recognize causes, presentation and initial treatment of hypovolemic, cardiogenic and septic shock in newborns.
- Identify clinical signs of infection and the recommended lab work needed prior to transport.
- Describe ways community hospital caregivers can support parents of sick newborns.
- Demonstrate proper care of the compromised newborn during skill lab session.

Provided by:
Northwest Area Health Education Center (AHEC),
a program of Wake Forest School of Medicine and part of the NC AHEC System.

Important Information

Each participant is responsible for reading the new 6th Edition S.T.A.B.L.E. Manual prior to class! Each participant will receive a pre-test and will need to bring it on September 14, 2021. A post-test is required at the end of the day. Manuals should be available for borrowing at each hospital or can be purchased for individual use at www.stableprogram.org. Contact Lisa Thomas at lisathom@wakehealth.edu if you do not receive a pre-test.
